

The Triple D Photo Kit eliminates the expensive practice of sending stones out on memo. Send stone photos, certifications, price quotes and messages easily to clients and coworkers using your smartphone. This intuitive device captures high quality pictures and video of diamonds and gemstones and the free accompanying app provides a Shoot, Fill and Send platform, which allows users to share images of stones instantaneously and seamlessly. The app features an area to record a stone's history, a library catalog to keep images of your stones organized, real time chat capabilities and more.

Retailing at $299 from Kassoy, the compact and portable Triple D Photo Kit allows users to be organized and accurate anywhere they go. For best results, use with a smartphone released in 2013 or later.
